Chicago Fourth Flight Option Returns to Duluth International Airport

Duluth, MN, – Starting June 6, 2016, United Airlines has brought back a fourth daily, nonstop flight from the Duluth Airport (DLH) to the Chicago O'Hare Airport (ORD). The Duluth-Chicago route has experienced continued growth since its launch in December 2009. It has proven to be a popular, high-demand option for Northland leisure and business travelers alike.

Scheduled flights will include one early morning, two mid-day and one evening option departing from DLH to ORD. Flight time from Duluth to Chicago is less than 90 minutes.

With four daily flight options, business travelers have the ability to travel between Duluth and Chicago without missing a work day. In addition, once travelers land in Chicago, they have access to daily domestic flights offered by United and United Express, as well as International daily departures that include cities in Asia, Europe, South America and the Caribbean.

“We appreciate the regions continued support of the United brand and the Chicago hub destination. It is key for our airport to have two major airline options. It creates competition for pricing and additional destination options,” said Tom Werner, Executive Director of the Duluth Airport Authority.
